Prior to joining ASA College José Valencia served as Vice President of Finance and Administration/Chief Financial Officer for VIP Community Services Bronx New York. During his time at VIP José was instrumental in turning a $1 million per year deficit into a $100,000 surplus that allowed the organization to more effectively provide drug treatment, shelter services, medically supervised intervention programs housing and employment services to more than 24,000 clients and patients per year.

Before working at VIP Mr. Valencia was Chief Executive Officer of the New York Association of New Americans, Inc. (NYANA) which resettled refugees in the New York Metropolitan area providing them with mental health assistance, ESL instruction, help for individuals aging out of the foster care system among other social services. In 2009 Mr. Valencia was recruited to serve as Chief Financial Officer of ASA College. He was charged with establishing financial protocols, training finance staff and developing budget reports and information to meet the requirements for Middle States Accreditation. ASA was granted 3 year MSCHE certification and Mr. Valencia was assigned additional responsibilities including strategic planning. In October 2010 in response to an immediate need to change the administrative management of the College, Mr. Valencia was asked to serve as Co-President. He was named President of the College in March of 2019 by the ASA Board of Trustees in order to continue his work to further stabilize the institution operationally and fiscally, overhaul the corporate culture, increase student enrollment and improve student outcomes.

Mr. Valencia holds a baccalaureate degree in Business Administration from the Baruch College Zicklin School of Business and is a New York State Certified Public Accountant.

PROVOST OF ASA COLLEGE: DR. SHANTHI KONKOTH

Dr. Shanthi Konkoth is the Provost of ASA College. A member of the ASA team since October 1989, she has steered the institution’s development from a clock hour vocational school with 200 students to an accredited degree-granting institution of higher learning. Dr. Konkoth began her career in higher education as an Administrative Assistant to the Director of the MBA program at New York Institute of Technology in 1987. She later became a Senior Instructor and Curriculum Specialist and then the Business Division Director at ASA. In 1997, she was promoted to the position of Vice President of Education and in 2013 was named Provost. “My accomplishments at ASA have brought me tremendous satisfaction,” she says, “especially my work with our students who go on to have successful careers in the healthcare, business, computers, and criminal justice fields.”

Dr. Konkoth is also an evaluator for the Middle States Commission on Higher Education. As an evaluator she gains much insight into and understanding of, not only the best practices in education but also of the myriad of challenges facing higher education.

Dr. Konkoth has a Doctor of Education from St. John’s University.
OVERVIEW OF COLLEGE PROGRAMS

ASA specializes in offering programs that balance traditional academic preparation with professional training and hands-on experience. With a “career-first” focus that allows students to immediately begin study in the chosen major, our programs are designed to deliver the type of knowledge and skills employers are looking for, and include workplace experience in the area of the student’s interest. Applicants may choose associate degree programs in business, computer technology, and legal studies, health disciplines or nursing. Students can also pursue baccalaureate studies in health, business and legal studies. Certificate programs are also available. The degree and certificate programs offer some degree of scheduling flexibility, with focused skills development components, providing a foundation for students to move to a higher level in a current job, launch a successful new career or pursue continuing education.

The scope and sequence of each curriculum are highly focused to direct students through a series of increasingly complex and challenging courses. To enhance teaching, faculty use a variety of instructional methods to include lectures, audiovisual aids, demonstrations, group critiquing sessions, web-based tutorials and laboratory activities. As a result of the exhaustive efforts of the institution’s curriculum and advisory committees, ASA is assured that its programs meet the evolving needs of employers, thereby maximizing the employability of our graduates. ASA is cognizant of the specific needs of students and allows students to make reasonable course substitutions with permission from the academic chairs and contingent upon satisfaction of prerequisite requirements. ASA is also currently expanding and enhancing its distance learning offerings to further accommodate students’ needs.

DEGREE PROGRAMS

ASA offers Associate of Occupational Studies (AOS) and Associate in Applied Sciences (AAS) an Associate in Arts (AA) and Associate in Science programs. These programs require the successful completion of between 60-70+ credits. ASA also offers Baccalaureate degrees programs at the Florida campus which require 120 – 138 credits. The primary objective of all ASA’s programs is preparation for job entry immediately upon completion of the program.

ASA recognizes that students have many responsibilities and/or work hours. ASA understands these circumstances and encourages students to seek advisement to ensure that each student may progress through his or her curriculum in a time frame that responds best to his/her individual work or personal situation.

CERTIFICATE PROGRAMS

The credit-bearing certificate programs provide students with the opportunity to get a head start with successful full time study leading to a gratifying career. Students will master employment skills quickly and be prepared for positions that offer good compensation and opportunities for advancement.

Students enrolled in the certificate programs receive all the benefits of an ASA education, including placement privileges and refresher courses.

Additionally, credits earned in certificate programs are transferable to ASA’s degree programs. Graduates may continue their education and career development without any loss of time. An Associate degree can be earned within one additional year by attending ASA’s evening/ weekend sessions.

SUPPORTIVE RESOURCES

In order to ensure that each curriculum is most relevant to on-the-job requirements, all ASA College programs include unlimited hands-on, laboratory training using the latest software, hardware, and technology essential in today’s marketplace. Students participate in schedule and unscheduled, instructor led and tutor led lab work. Beginning Summer 2019, students will be provided with laptops to assist them in their studies on and off campus. To facilitate round the clock access to school work and instructor information the College has been using BlackBoard as their learning management system since 1989. All programs include externships but some programs allow students to choose between an externship and a Capstone course. Capstone courses are usually the preferred choice for students seeking transfer to a baccalaureate degree program. Student received free test preparation for state exams. In addition to these academic support services ASA also provides lifetime job placement services including career change assistance.

ASA STUDENT ENGAGEMENT

The esteemed and experienced people who comprise the faculty of any college are its principal resource. The quality and even the character of a student’s experience with an institution are largely determined by the caliber of the faculty. But for students to experience the benefits derived from association with the faculty, they must have the opportunity to meet and to know them. That opportunity exists at ASA.

Unlike many other institutions with large classes, ASA’s classes generally do not exceed thirty-five students and a typical class has fewer than thirty. Therefore, there is ample opportunity for faculty and students to know one another and establish partnerships in learning. Students also participate in evaluating faculty.

From time to time, the Board invites faculty and students to its meetings to ask them about their experience at ASA. At the same time, Trustees visit the College’s campuses to talk to students and faculty with the goal of learning more about their conditions. Prior to graduation students participate in an orientation and exit interview so that staff can better assist them in their transition to the labor force.

COLLEGE STRATEGIC PLAN PROCESS

ASA’s strategic goals focus on the core mission of offering education to help lead students toward careers and/or further education. These goals require continual updating of facilities, equipment, and personnel, resulting in an ongoing allocation of resources. In general, ASA relies on a dynamic process of planning, assessment, and renewal. While Executive Officers hold ultimate responsibility, strategic plans are based on input from the entire college community. ASA recognizes that a formal, systematic planning process helps consolidate institutional goals and improves communication within the College community. ASA developed its first formal Strategic Plan in 2004. The plan was reviewed and updated annually until 2008. At that time, a new five-year Strategic Plan was developed. This plan continued to be updated annually and was revised as necessary. In 2011, the ASA strategic planning document was again significantly revised and a new five-year plan (2011-2015) was developed. The 2011-2015 Strategic Plan was submitted to Middle States as part of our first year Monitoring review report. Since then, the document continues to be reviewed and updated annually.

ASA’s current strategic planning process encourages participation from various constituent groups in the College community. It begins with the state of the college address delivered annually by the President of ASA College. The purpose of the annual State of the College address is to bring faculty, students, alumni, Board and staff up to date on progress made in the college in the preceding year. It not only provides an overview of highlights and accomplishments from the past year, but it also defines challenges facing the college as well as exciting opportunities of the future.
The Board was created in 2001 to move the institution to a more collegiate culture and to meet New York State Education Department expectations. That same year, the Board passed a unanimous motion for ASA to pursue further accreditation by meeting all eligibility requirements and standards of the Middle States Commission on Higher Education. ASA’s Board of Trustees has a hands-on approach to providing leadership and oversight to the College. The Board acts to provide institutional advisement and planning for the College, including all related activities incidental to the operation thereof. Its guidance relates to the general educational and financial policies of the institution. The By-laws of the Board of Trustees outline its specific powers: to determine and periodically review the Mission, goals and objectives of the College; to organize and review the institutional governance structure of the College; to authorize degree programs and the granting of all earned degrees; and to initiate any and all other activities which the Board may determine appropriate for the fulfillment of any of the foregoing.

The Board of Trustees is currently composed of eight elected members plus one ex-officio member (ASA’s President). The ex-officio member is a non-voting member of the Board. The bylaws of the Board of Trustees address the new member election process, the length of Trustees’ terms, the frequency of meeting dates, the presence of a quorum, the process to remove members, and the procedure for members to use in order to resign. When vacancies exist on the Board, either due to a resignation or a removal of a member, the Board of Trustees Nominating Committee considers nominations for new members. Nominations may arise from members of the Board or from the College President. As widely recognized by the College and reflected in the Board’s minutes, the composition of the Board is critical to its governing role. Based on employment and life experiences, members of the current Board offer many talents: backgrounds in educational administration; prior fiduciary or financial oversight of companies or colleges; knowledge of accreditation processes; experience in human resources and personnel-related issues; and employment experience in industries related to ASA’s programs of study.

Although members of ASA’s Board of Trustees are not called upon to generate new financial resources and increase endowment funds, members are often used as a resource for ideas that could potentially generate revenue for the College. For instance, Board members are often solicited for their opinions on new program offerings expected to increase the College’s enrollment and thus generate revenue. The Board of Trustees has played an increasingly active role in setting policies concerning ASA’s Mission, programs, and general operations of the institution.

MEETINGS

Board meetings share a routine agenda that includes the President’s report, a report on academic affairs, a financial update, and a forum for new business. Management policies, educational programs, and financial matters are brought to the Board of Trustees’ attention mainly through the President’s report. Institutional policies developed by the Executive Committee and other pertinent matters are reported by the President or Provost. Such matters typically include updates on enrollment, marketing initiatives, human resource changes, placement statistics, and legislative issues. Updates on educational programs, new academic initiatives, faculty development, and accreditation issues are presented by the Provost.

The Board of Trustees meets regularly and for a set number of times during the year (minimum of six). Board members are expected to attend not less than 50% of the meetings throughout the year. The schedule of meetings is agreed upon by the Trustees at the beginning of the year and is recorded in the minutes. Meetings typically are scheduled on Tuesdays or Thursdays, start at 6:30 p.m. and last for two and a half to three hours. An agenda is prepared by the Chairman, in consultation with other Trustees and the President, and is circulated among the Trustees before every meeting. A quorum, that is a majority of the Trustees, is required to have a meeting.

Meetings are generally in person but teleconference call meetings are also possible. With the current technology, meetings can also be done through Skype or other online connectivity tools. Meeting minutes are recorded and such minutes are reviewed and approved by the Trustees at the next meeting.

CAMPUS TOURS

BOT meetings are held at each campus location at least once per year and includes a tour of each facility. Trustees are also encouraged to visit all of ASA College’s campuses for the purpose of meeting key people and touring the facilities. During such tours, arrangements can be made for the Trustee to visit the classrooms and meet with selected students and faculty. It is also important that such a visit gives the Trustee an opportunity to meet with the Executive Committee members and other college officers.
